Question 3 of 10

Text Answer Question

What is the difference between curriculum design and development?

Student's Answer:

Curriculum design is the high level planning and structuring of educational content, establishing what should be learned and the frameworks for how it should be organized. However, curriculum development is the broader, continuous process that takes that blueprint and include its implementation, evaluation and ongoing improvement over time.

Correct Answer:

Curriculum design is the process of planning and creating a curriculum, while curriculum development is the process of implementing and refining the curriculum.
